

The BRAGGING MOMMY

Is it Brag Worthy?

Flying Fun! Guillow's Glider Airplanes Review

My boys just love anything with wheels or that flies... don't they all? They were so excited when our box of Guillow's Glider Airplanes arrived. I put my dad to the task of helping them put them together and fly around, and they had such a great "men's" morning flying planes. I love the idea of the boys enjoying something that doesn't have any batteries or sounds and just a good old fashioned activity that brings them outdoors and gets them running around the yard. I think they're favorite was the big foam plane, but they are still a little young yet and it was the easiest for them to fly. My dad's favorite was definitely the wind up plane. These planes make awesome gifts for any little ones! Thanks, Guillow's!

Things that are Brag Worthy:

- Quality scale balsa model airplane kits, balsa wood gliders, foam gliders, foam wind up Copter toys, and many more flying toys that ensure hours of fun outdoors!
- Guillow's wide range of build-it-yourself kits are sold at hobby shops and online at popular sites like amazon.com.
- Ideal for an afternoon with Dad or the next-door-neighbor's kid.
- Best of all, all of these gliders are easy to assemble, with an estimated assembly time of 5 minutes. These seven models have no glue required, and assembly time should be under 5 minutes for each plane.
- Today's kids may adore their electronics and software and big-screen games, but hand them a $3 airplane kit and watch! They will discover the joy of being outside and flying a toy plane they constructed with their own hands.

Visit www.guillow.com to see their great selection!

Guillow's Glider Airplanes gets Bragging Rights!